Deferred Disposition (If you are not eligible for Driver's Safety Course)

Definition

Deferred disposition is a way of having your citation dismissed after satisfactory completion of a probationary period during which no additional convictions are received, and after all requirements imposed in the deferred order are satisfied.

The judge may, in the judge's sole discretion, defer disposition on most cases. You must, however, appear in court, on your court date at the bottom of the citation to request Deferred. The holder of a commercial driver's license (CDL) is not eligible for deferred disposition on moving traffic violations. Costs must generally be paid when the court grants deferred, and the court may impose a special expense fee not to exceed the maximum fine amount authorized by state law. If you complete the required terms, the case is dismissed. The deferred period cannot exceed 180 days.

If you are under the age of twenty-five (25) years you are required by Texas law to attend a Driving Safety Course as a condition of deferred disposition.

Judge's Ability to Dismiss

The municipal judge is responsible for conducting a fair, impartial, and public trial. The case against you is brought by the State of Texas through the prosecutor, not the court. Therefore, the judge may not dismiss a case without the prosecutor having the right to try the case. There are several exceptions to this rule, including deferred disposition, driving safety courses, and compliance dismissals.
